Moose Lodge To Hold First Meeting Friday

First meeting of the proposed Palm Springs Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, was today set for 8 p.m., Friday, at the Desert Inn. Color films taken at Mooseheart, Ill., and Moosehaven, Fla., national centers of Moose activities, will be shown to members and guests.

Principal meeting speakers are James B. West, of Canoga Park, Moose regional director; and George I. Davies, of Alhambra, past president of the California State Moose Association.

All members are urged to attend and bring friends interested in joining the order, Larry Brandyberry, Moose membership director, said today.

Prospective members seeking information may call Daniel D. Murphy, at 6261, or Ora Phillips, 8-3161.

Sinatra Files $2 Million Suit Against 'Look'

HOLLYWOOD UP—Frank Sinatra today sought $2,600,000 damages against Cowles Magazines, Inc., and writer Bill Davidson because of an article in the current issue of Look magazine that reported the singer called Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn a "creep."

Sinatra charged in a federal court libel suit Tuesday that Look stooped to scandal magazine tactics in the first article of a biographical series titled, "The Life Story of Frank Sinatra: Talent, Tantrums and Torments."

The part of the article that appeared to have infuriated Sinatra into taking legal action was an anecdote in which the complainant said, the springy singer was quoted as vehemently rating Rayburn at last year's Democratic convention to "take the hand off the suit, creep." The article said the stuff rebuke came when Rayburn asked Sinatra to sing "The Yellow Rose of Texas."

The legal firm of Gang, Kopp and Tyre attached to the 16-page suit a copy of a telegram from Speaker Rayburn denying the alleged incident.

Mystery Plane Over N. Y. Identified as Jet

NEW YORK UP—A low-flying jet plane frightened some Manhattan residents Tuesday night with its whistling roar. It was identified today as a Navy fighter with a civilian pilot testing secret equipment.

The F7U3 twin-jet Cutlass made six passes over the center of Manhattan at an altitude above 3,000 feet between 10:45 and 11:50 p.m., according to a spokesman for the Servo Corp. of America whose equipment it was testing.

THE SKIES OVER Manhattan sky-scrappers are normally off limits for military jets. Thousands of New Yorkers took flight at the unaccustomed din. Calls to police reported as many as eight jets were buzzing the city.

The company spokesman said the plane was flown by pilot Jake Boelhower of Meteor Air Transport Corp.

The reason for the flights over the restricted Manhattan area was withheld because of military security. The company said it was

DAV Salvage Drive Started

Annual salvage drive of the Palm Springs Disabled American Veterans Post is now under way. Post members are collecting salvaged items from Village residents for shipment to the San Bernardino DAV store, where they'll be reconditioned and sold to aid disabled veterans.

Village area residents having items for donation to the salvage drive are asked to call Dr. James E. Potter, 2151, or Ray Hiller, 9015.

a photographic flight testing equipment for the Air Force.

SERVO DOES NOT make cameras but does make electronic equipment including infra-red, navigational and control systems. The test, the spokesman said, was "successful."

It also succeeded in stirring up the populace as it whirled in a tight flight pattern between George Washington Bridge and the Battery.

FRIGHTENED TELEPHONE callers alerted the Air Defense Command at Roslyn Air Force Base which sent up another jet, a Starfire, in an attempt to clear up the "mystery."

The second plane's flight at 8,000 feet apparently compounded the confusion. Roslyn reported fresh calls after the Starfire's unsuccessful hunt for the "mystery" plane, which apparently had already completed its mission and returned to the Navy's Floyd Bennett Field.

STRONG WINDS YESTERDAY afternoon caused this house trailer to flip its truck over on Highway 111 just outside the north city limits. Albert Cox of El Monte, driver of the truck, received only a minor cut behind his left ear, and was treated at Palm Springs Clinic. The truck was the property of the Vesper Company, which was towing the 44-foot house trailer from Palm Springs to the Al

Rose lot in Los Angeles. The trailer's interior was badly damaged, with all furnishings smashed. Cox said that when the trailer started to jackknife, he slowed the truck to a stop and tried to open the door to get out, but that the wind held it closed. He said the truck, when it turned over, went over very slowly. (Desert Sun Photo).

Ewing Scott Extradition Upheld Today

Detroit Judge Approves Order Of Gov. Williams

DETROIT UP—District Judge Miles N. Culehan today upheld the extradition of L. Ewing Scott, accused Los Angeles wife slayer, to California.

It will be at least 20 days before Scott can be returned to the West Coast and his return could be dragged out longer if an appeal of Culehan's decision were accepted by the state Supreme Court.

SCOTT, 66, a silver-haired dandy charged with slaying his missing wife, Evelyn Throby Scott, 63, and stealing much of her $600,000 fortune, was caught trying to sneak back into Canada April 15. He had fled to Canada in May, 1956, after being indicted for forgery and grand theft and the murder indictment was returned later.

Culehan denied a petition for a writ of habeas corpus by Scott's attorney, Gabriel Cohn, who argues Gov. G. Mennen Williams' extradition order should have been based on a single crime. He said the order covered 14 separate indictments for murder, forgery and grand theft.

CORN ALSO ARGUED Scott's return to California should be undertaken by the federal government, since Scott was arrested in Windsor, Ont., on a federal fugitive warrant.

Culehan ruled under California law it was permissible to extradite a man for several different crimes included in a single extradition request.

Elks Piggy Bank Dance, Dinner Set Thursday

Palm Springs Elks today announced that their annual "Piggy Bank" dinner dance for the cerebral palsy fund gets under way at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Aiming at a goal of $1,905, members of Elks Lodge 1904 have programmed a special dance and a spaghetti dinner for the Highway 111 Elks clubhouse.

Exalted Ruler Bill Scharf invited all members, their families and guests to attend the dance and boost the Piggy Bank slogan—"A coin a day and they'll walk and play."

School Bill Cut by 500 Million Dollars

House Committee Slashes Funds For Construction

WASHINGTON UP—The economy ax fell on the school construction bill today and chopped out 500 million dollars.

The House Education and Labor Committee, nearing final action on the measure behind closed doors, voted 23 to 3 to cut the program from two billion to $1,500,000,000.

Rep. Samuel K. McConnell Jr. (R-Pa.) said he proposed the cut because the smaller program would have a better chance of passage in the face of the congressional economy drive.

IN ANY EVENT, he said, the billion and a half "will do the job as well as two billion dollars."

The committee previously had voted tentatively on a two billion dollar program—400 million dollars a year for the next five years. Today, it trimmed it to 300 million a year for five years.

There was a chance the figure would be changed again before the final committee vote, expected Thursday.

OTHER congressional news:

Postal Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield told the President he would need an increase in his 1958 budget because of mounting mail costs. Chairman A. Willis Robertson (D-Va.) of the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee which handles postal funds said Summerfield wants 75 million dollars more than the House voted and he is sure the Senate will reject the request.

RATES: The House Post Office Committee approved a 128 million dollar increase in third class postal rates for advertising circulars and catalogs during the next two years. But it postponed until Thursday Summerfield's request for a four-year increase of 33 million dollars for second class newspaper and magazine rates.

City to Fight Rate Increase For Callectric

The City of Palm Springs will initiate the fight against a rate increase proposed by the California

Electric Power Company, by contracting other cities and together hiring a special attorney to present their case.

The city council was informed of the rate increase proposed by Callectric at a luncheon meeting of the body yesterday, and it was noted that the increase request came during an investigation by the local governing body into rates already paid for local electricity.

Callectric is requesting a 9.6 percent increase in rates throughout its service area.

Francis Crocker, local manager of Callectric, in a report to the city council late in March, said that the high cost of power in Palm Springs was subject to several things, including the seasonal aspect of the community, underground service, and the higher use of kilowatt hours by Palm Springs residents.

Eleanor Jones, 15-year-old Palm Springs girl, will be returned home safely today after being missing for two days.

Eleanor ran away from home after she reportedly had a fight with her mother after the purchase of a second horse. According to the mother, Mrs. William Jones, Eleanor already had one horse and purchased another against the wishes of her mother.

The girl was found early this morning by Max Dunham of Palm Springs, about 15 miles west of Brawley, walking along the highway leading the two horses.

The Jones' live at 774 Mel Avenue.

Queen of Trades Contest To End at Coronation Ball

The Annual Palm Springs Queen of Trades contest moved into its final stages today as contest officials prepared for the Coronation Ball at the Palm Springs Playhouse pavilion Friday night.

The contest is sponsored by Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5987. Candidates are sponsored by various Village businessmen and merchants.

Thurman Arnold Jr. was today named as new commander of Palm Springs Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5987 following the post's annual election of officers this week.

Other new officers are Howard Snyder senior vice commander; Louis R. Hilton, junior vice commander; Francis Dwyer, chaplain; Dean Pickell, quartermaster; Edward Donahue, surgeon; Ray Lusby, advocate; and Charles Carrico and Russell Snyder, trustees.

Crowning of the queen who represents Village business firms takes place at the Coronation Ball at the Palm Springs Playhouse pavilion Friday night.

The contest is sponsored by Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5987.

Deadline for ticket sales is 4 p.m. Friday.

Winner of the contest, chosen through the number of tickets she sells for the ball, wins her choice of $200 cash or a trip to Mexico City, according to Dean Pickell, contest chairman.

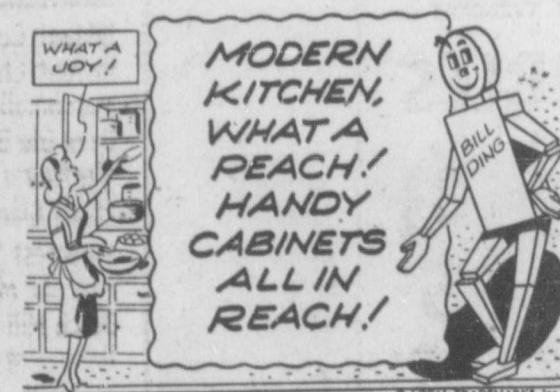

Deadline for ticket sales is 4 p.m. Friday.

Wright to Ask Board Hearing On Dismissal

Mathematics Teacher John Wright today announced he will protest his dismissal from Palm Springs High School before the Board of Education tomorrow night.

Wright, whose termination was approved at the last school board meeting, said he would ask the board to hear his case at its regular meeting.

THE BOARD meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the board room of the Frances Stevens School.

Other board actions include acceptance of a library of "Concerts on Film" to be presented by the school district's music appreciation committee.

THE FILMS, ALL of world famous artists and orchestras in actual performances, were purchased for presentation to the district through funds contributed by Village residents.

The board will also consider salary schedule revisions for classified personnel.

Atomic Missiles Reach Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa — Vice Adm. Stuart Ingerson disclosed today that advance elements of a Matador guided missile unit already have arrived on this island base to defend it against possible Communist attack.

Peiping Radio, in the first Chinese Communist reaction, said America's act of turning Formosa "into a base for atomic weapons constitutes a menace not only to China but also to peace in Asia and the world."

It said "the United States has already lost its monopoly of these weapons" and "any one who should dare to use atomic weapons would bring destruction upon himself." The broadcast said the Matadors would not shake Red China's determination to "liberate" Formosa.

3 Water District Gets Support

In response to a request by the Coachella Valley County Water District the board of supervisors instructed county counsel this week to prepare a resolution endorsing an application by the district for assistance with stormwater and watershed conservation measures under Public Law 566 of the 83rd Congress and Amendment.

"The proposed protection works will be along the west side of the Coachella Valley," said Lowell O. Weeks, general manager and chief engineer for the water district, "extending from the Riverside County line north to a point south of Indio."

Supervisor George Berkley said he is disturbed over the way the association is trying to achieve its objective. "We should not support them on this particular request," he said. He said it is really an Imperial County fight anyway.

THE LETTER, signed by Ed Welch, first vice president, read in part as follows:

Salton Sea Highway Association Plea for Niland to Yuma Highway Is Tabled by County Supervisors Without Action

A letter from the Salton Sea Highway Association to the board of supervisors requesting support in a move to push a proposed Niland to Yuma highway improvement, was tabled by the county supervisors this week without action.

Supervisor George Berkley said he is disturbed over the way the association is trying to achieve its objective. "We should not support them on this particular request," he said. He said it is really an Imperial County fight anyway.

The extension will permit many of the refugees to continue over this shorter and more direct highway east and would also permit the movement of urgently needed foodstuffs from Arizona back to the Coachella Valley for the welfare of these refugees.

"In the past you have opposed us and lent your support to El Centro and San Diego. In doing so you were instrumental in securing $600,000 in lieu of a road which was constructed by Blythe and Niland and maintained for many years.

"This money should have been spent extending Highway 111 to Yuma. Instead, it is being spent on five miles of sand hills on a road out of Brawley crossing our proposed road, tapping a recreation grounds on the Colorado River and cutting Highway 80 at Blythe.

Berkley said the $600,000 which Welch stated had been secured "in lieu of" an existing Blythe-Niland road, is an appropriation made by the Navy for a direct Blythe to Brawley route across a sand dunes area. He said that As-samblyman Lee Backstrand says there is no chance of either route getting into the state highway system before 1959.

M-3 Gravel Pit Permit Granted

An M-3 permit was granted by the county supervisors this week for establishment and maintenance of a rock, sand and gravel pit and rock crusher on property on the east side of Twentynine Palms Road (Highway 187) in Mission Creek Wash, approximately two miles north of the Pierson Boulevard intersection near Desert Hot Springs.

The permittee is Gunther-Shirley-Lane of Sherman Oaks. The permit is to terminate Jan. 1, 1958.

PROBATIONERS ANONYMOUS

Since Alcoholics anonymous made popular the technique of the reformed doing the reforming, we've had divorcees anonymous, drug addicts and now probationers anonymous. This last is not so much an organization as an idea. It is described in the annual report of the Chief Justice of the Special Sessions Court in New York.

Briefly, probationers who have successfully completed their term when they are privileged to be out in the world so long as they keep out of trouble and report regularly to probation officers, tell their successes to those newly put on probation. They appear before groups of new probationers at frequent intervals. They have been found to give the probationer the confidence to make a fresh start.

The youthful probationer is usually not a very pleasant individual to live with. He comes out of jail with a chip on his shoulder. He feels the world is down on him. The job of finding his place in society is not an easy one. He is suspicious of efforts at home and outside it to smooth things for him. He gives the probation officer a hard time.

That is why the stories the successful probationers tell are so important. They encourage him to make the effort. With understanding at home and outside it, he can make the grade. Society would recover a lost member, instead of condemning him to return to crime because he is made to feel "not wanted."

NEBRASKA SPEAKS UP

(Savanna, Ill., Times-Journal)

We think the Nebraska legislature has something! It voted the other day to ask the federal government to discontinue its matching programs.

Perhaps that's going too far, but the more you think about it, the more it becomes apparent that the states strain to match government funds and the government strains to get more funds and everybody from Washington right down to Springfield strains the poor taxpayer right through the sieve.

The system breeds the philosophy that "we've got to raise so much if we want to receive so much." Since it seems a shame to let funds we might have go elsewhere, we sometimes levy more than we need in a sort of vicious round robin. We tax so that we may have in a process which results in our having not.

We are reminded of the contractor who was visiting at an insane asylum. In the course of the tour he came upon an inmate laying bricks at a truly amazing rate. Entering into conversation with the patient, the contractor discovered that the man was due for release in a few weeks.

"I'd like to have you come to work for me," the contractor said. "I can't do it today, but I'll come back on Friday and speak to the superintendent about it. Maybe he'll let you out a bit early."

"Fine," said the inmate. "I'd like that."

The contractor shook hands and turned away. Suddenly a brick struck him in the back of the head. When he came to, the bricklayer was standing over him. "Don't forget Friday," he said.

Sooner or later these bright schemes of ours catch up with us.

To paraphrase: there is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the ends thereof are the portals of bankruptcy!

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE

(New Roads, La., Pointe Coupee Banner)

The Portland, Oregon, Journal states editorially, "For the first time in a decade, the power picture in the Pacific Northwest is brighter.

"This is due primarily to the fact that there has been a sixfold increase (over 1955) in currently scheduled non-federal projects. That means projects of the private utilities, public utility districts and municipalities which are building dams as fast as they can, obtain licenses and finances.

COSTS UP THREE TIMES

(Garner, Iowa, Leader)

Our business is no different than others in the community. We are faced with constantly increasing costs—and frankly economic conditions in this area have not been good enough to make it possible for us to increase charges and keep up with our increasing costs. The situation was intensified recently with the announcement of the big paper mills that print paper is going up another $4 per ton—which will mean that it will cost us more than three times what it did 20 years ago.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

'Brave Little Jordan'

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "The future of humanity," said Professor Murray J. Meddlomore, "hangs in . . . Let's see. Where was I?"

You were in Jordan, Professor. "Yes, of course," said Meddlomore. "The future of humanity hangs upon the outcome of the crisis in . . . Where did you say I was?"

Amman, Jordan, Professor. Does it matter?

"NOT A BIT," said Meddlomore. "With meddling what it is these days, the future of humanity can hang just about anywhere. Too bad, however, we haven't got a more portentous name. I always liked Dienbienphu, although its third syllable offered a certain amount of temptation to backward Americans who still think their country shouldn't meddle so much. Ah, yes, but back to brave little Jordan, the last outpost of freedom. This latest victim of the ravaging Communist wolf . . ."

But, Professor, Jordan is really nothing but a silly little satellite of the fading British empire. Until last year, it was occupied by British mercenary troops, and the present boy-monarch is a puppet of Britain. Ninety-five per cent of the country is sand, and most of the population is both illiterate and nomadic. Are you sure that Jordan is another outpost of freedom? You've said that about a great many other places.

"COMMUNISM IS wherever the Eisenhower Doctrine says it is," said Meddlomore, rubbing his hands. "We must not permit the light of liberty to be extinguished. Europe is in danger! The Middle East is on fire! North Africa is smoldering! What about the Far East?"

Well, Professor, there's evidence that Red China is behaving a good deal more sensibly than we expected. She is securing her borders and trying to get her economy on a self-sufficient basis. Things are really fairly quiet in the Far East.

"Don't talk like an isolationist," said Meddlomore sternly. "We must offer arms to Pakistan, so that Pakistan's attitude toward India and Afghanistan will become more militant. After that, we must rush aid to India and arms to Afghanistan, so as to become thoroughly entangled in that part of the world."

But, Professor, France is also the cradle of the fading British empire. Until last year, it was occupied by British mercenary troops, and the present boy-monarch is a puppet of Britain. Ninety-five per cent of the country is sand, and most of the population is both illiterate and nomadic. Are you sure that Jordan is another outpost of freedom? You've said that about a great many other places.

"SO I HAVE," said Meddlomore, his eyes shining with the thought. "We are no longer confined to the Western Hemisphere as we were in the neolithic days of the Monroe Doctrine. Today we are inextricably involved in Western Europe, where we have five divisions of American boys to protect France, the cradle of modern liberty."

But, Professor, France is also

INEZ ROBB:

Another Dirty Word

Every time I pick up a paper these days and read that President Eisenhower has played another round of golf at the Little White House in Augusta, Ga., I shudder convulsively at what that printed word is doing to my profession.

Until four weeks ago, I was innocent enough to suppose that any report of the President's golfing was no more than a routine news item. Now I know better. Mention of the President's golf games in the public prints is an overt Communist plot, designed to destroy him and the republic.

And many times the pet or pet who has provided company, entertainment and protection during the winter months are forgotten in the rush and rash of plans for the departure.

They are left behind to shift for themselves.

RECENTLY The Palm Springs

Animal Protective League sounded an appeal along this line.

They asked that those leaving for other homes or stays at the beach or in the mountains to either:

Provide for the care of their winter pets or take them along.

During Be Kind to Animals

Week special thought should be given to this appeal.

So, if you stay through May and then plan to go, be kind to that pet.

I GUESS we don't read the same papers," I said soothingly.

"The ones I read always say that the President spent such-and-so many hours at his desk on official business before going out to play golf."

Many people when they go to a race track leave betting on the horses to others. They just bet on Shoemaker. There are others who won't bet on him at all.

They are the ones who had

Swaps when Willie pulled, up, thinking he was through — and Porterhouse beat him—and those who last Saturday backed Gallant

Man in the Derby and The Shoe

again figured he was in and Iron

Liege beat him.

What am I grouching about? I wasn't there.

SOMEBODY is always thinking up ideas and putting out handy gadgets. The latest is a little pocket-sized timer, an adaptation of those kitchen timers the wife uses to get the eggs or the roast just right. It is for use when parking for those people who are afraid they won't get back to their cars in time and will have to pay the judge. When you deposit the parking fee, set the alarm and it will buzz in time to prevent a ticket. Good for five minutes up to four hours.

Some people always ignore a parking meter, going on the optimic theory that probably the cop won't come while they are gone.

And that if they do, the money saved is enough to pay an occasional small fine. Does that make me an accessory before the fact?

PERHAPS there is something wrong with my mental processes

but somehow it jars me when a

with Hildy Crawford

If you have a suppressed desire . . . to be an artist or a fan dancer . . . to be a sailor and sail the Seven Seas . . . a beachcomber or a street car conductor . . .

you have an urge to jump in the swimming pool with your clothes on . . . or to find out how you'd look with red hair . . . Sunday night's the night to try it out . . . when the Racquet Club's closing party gets underway . . . Scuttlebutt has it that there will be some amazing and wonderful costumes in the merry throng that's gathering that night for the Club's final party . . . This will be a gay crowd in gala mood

. . . and promises to be as much fun as this annual party always is . . .

Director Michael Ferrall of the Palm Springs Playhouse . . . called to tell me that he and leading lady Marrian Walters expect to be married here in Palm Springs this coming weekend . . . and that Barney and Helen Hughes, long-time favorites with Playhouse audiences but who have been missing these past two years . . . may fly out from New York for the wedding . . .

I know Mike and Marrian's many friends and fans will join me in wishing them much happiness . . .

Blonde Valerie Valkis who was seen in several roles at the Palm Springs Playhouse last winter . . . is in the Desert Hospital and under traction for a slipped disk . . . Valerie, who's been in Wisconsin, was brought down from Los Angeles Monday by a long-time film acquaintance Lew Ayres (Dr. Kildare) . . . and expected to be there for four or five days . . .

Mrs. Jack Sheridan (the former Elaine Naish, daughter of J. Carroll Naish) and two children Geary and Kathi . . . have been vacationing in the Village for the past month . . . at the Villa Lola home of her in-laws the John Staufers . . . The Sheridans are happily expecting the arrival of a third child in July . . .

Honolulu - bound on June 11 aboard the Matsonia on her maiden voyage . . . will be Dr. P. A. Staley and daughter Jeannie and Jeannie's godfather Earle C. Anthony . . . They'll be gone about 10 days . . . and Mrs. Staley and their son Phil will go to San Francisco to greet the returning travelers . . .

Jeri and Stewart Hopps will be down from San Francisco . . . to spend the weekend at the Racquet Club . . .

It was a "bon voyage" for Mrs. James Germaine . . . when Mrs. William Reichel hosted a luncheon at El Mirador . . . The Germaines (they bought the former Julian Bamberger home on Via Loma) sailed on Sunday from New Orleans aboard the Stella Polaris . . . Their three month cruise will take them to the West Indies, Europe and the Scandinavian countries . . . They will return to Palm Springs in the fall . . .

Luncheon guests included Mrs. M. O. Anderson, Mrs. Janet Esringer, Mrs. Frank Knowlton and her houseguest Mrs. Robert Christ of Piedmont . . . Mrs. Norman Waters, Mrs. Gordon Prentice, Mrs. Percy Whiteside . . . and Mrs. Walter Smith (they're new home owners here from Hillsborough) . . .

Irene Kenyon drove in from Acapulco on Monday . . . for a fortnight's visit with Dorothy Gray Brown . . .

College Students Here for Annual Luau at Beck Home

Around 110 college students and friends of Bob Beck and fellow members of the Opu-Kal Club at Claremont Men's College, with their dates from Scripps, Pomona and other colleges, gathered at the Harold Beck home at 356 El Portal on Saturday night for their second annual luau.

The boys transformed the Beck gardens into a tropical setting with fish nets filled with cleaners, draped all over the lanai and patio area, and strings of Chinese lanterns. Palm fronds, too, were used liberally, and flowers floated in the swimming pool.

The luau table was decorated

Mother's Day Nearly Half Century Old

NEW YORK. (UPI) — The Mother's Day custom, as we know it in America is nearly a half century old, but its true origin extends to antiquity.

The Mother's Day festival in this country came about through the efforts of Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia, who visualized national day of recognition for mothers while arranging a special memorial service for her own mother. On the second Sunday in May, 1908, Mother's Day was observed throughout Philadelphia.

In 1914, President Woodrow Wilson signed a joint resolution of Congress calling for observance of Mother's Day on the second Sunday in May, giving the event full and official recognition. The nation—red for living mothers, white for those deceased—was chosen as the floral symbol because it was Mrs. Jarvis' favorite.

But homage to mother actually goes back almost to the beginning of man. The ancient Romans honored Hilaria, their mother-goddess, each March 15. With the advent of Christianity, the Mother Church and the Madonna, typifying all that was beautiful in motherhood, were honored.

Herbert Given Approval to Build Apartments, Hotel in Resident Zone

By a vote of four to one with Supervisor Fred McCall dissenting, the county board of supervisors approved a variance this week which will permit Montague N. Herbert to build apartments and a hotel in a single residential zone on Wonder Palms Road across the street from the Tamarisk Country Club and the Wonder Palms Hotel, in the desert resort area east of Palm Springs. In letters to the supervisors, both the Tamarisk Country Club and the Tamarisk Country Club Property Owners Association requested the supervisors to delay making a decision.

SAID EDGAR G. RICHARDS, president of the newly organized property owners association, "We would appreciate it if you would withhold any rulings on this matter at this time as we are in process of preparing a master plan for this whole area, which includes the Wonder Palms Road section and we feel that when this is completed it will give the board of supervisors a much clearer picture of the whole situation in coming to their conclusions regarding possible rezoning."

Louis E. Golam, president of the Tamarisk Country Club, voiced similar sentiments.

SAID HE: "UNDER all the circumstances, and considering the fact that the property owners association is now actively intending to take a part in the hearings, and further that this association may well incorporate the various persons who are now filing conflicting claims, we, on behalf of the Tamarisk Country Club, feel that perhaps the feasible thing to do would be to withhold any final rulings until the property owners association can crystallize its position and appear before you."

In voting against approval of the zoning variance, McCall said the requests for delay should be heeded. "The people down there should be given a chance to settle their

Freeholder Fund Established by County Board

County Administrative Officer Clay Begole told the supervisors this week that the cost of legal publications on the notice calling the June 11 election of a Board of Freeholders amounts to $1,141.50. He suggested that a Freeholders budget of $2,500 be provided for the balance of the fiscal year.

The supervisors decided that since the election results will not be final for 16 days after the June 11 election, there could be little Freeholder expense this fiscal year, so they budgeted only the $1,141.50.

"What actual expense will the county be required to pay?" asked Supervisor William Jones. County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr. said there might be numerous expenses if within reason, such as consultants' fees, printing, attorneys, and possibly private mileage expense.

A fund for the expenses will be determined and provided in the budget for the next fiscal year which commences July 1.

They're really years ahead!

SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK 40—Harry Arthur (Cookie) Lavagetto, taking over as manager of the Washington Senators, is a cinch to prove once again the old Durocherism that "nice guys finish last."

Cookie is a nice guy and a good baseball man. But the Senators are the punching bag of the American League and this has to be the most hapless job in baseball.

Washington collapsed years ago and there's no success in sight. It took its last flag in 1933 and in the intervening 23 years has been out of the second division only four times, the last of those rarities coming a long 12 years ago. The farm system is a mockery and the accent is on Latin-American players because they come cheaply.

SO CHUCK DRESEN was booted off the bench to change the window dressing and Cookie, his coach, was named captain of the rowboat without oars.

Cookie is a swarthy, black-haired man of 42 who is on the silent side. He picked up his nickname at 19 when he joined his home town Oakland team. The business manager's nickname was Cookie and, when he "adopted" the youngster, Lavagetto became known as "Little Cookie." Eventually he became the big "Cookie."

The following season, 1934, he was up with Pittsburgh and in 1937 he was traded to Brooklyn. Cookie was a Dodger standby for seven years, with four years out in the middle for military service, and he can't be recalled as the slickest third baseman in history. Twice he led the league in errors. Nor was he a great hitter, with a lifetime mark of .269.

BUT ONE HIT at the tall end of his career earned him more acclaim than all the others put together. That was the one in the 1947 World Series which broke up Yankee Bill Bevens' no-hitter with two out in the ninth inning.

"One hit doesn't make a great player," he recalls modestly. "They don't remember that the next day I fanned in the ninth with the tying run on second base."

The next year Cookie was back in the minors where he wound up his playing career in 1950. Since then he has stood in the shadow of Dresen, coaching for "Whistling Charlie" at Brooklyn, Oklahoma and Washington.

Cookie had some other good days, like hitting a home run off Burleigh Grimes his first time at bat in the majors and the game in 1939 when he got six hits in six times at bat. But the good days are over for a while now. You can't see the sunshine from a coal mine.

Calumet's Pair in Baltimore for Preakness Prize

BALTIMORE 40—Kentucky Derby winner Iron Liege and his more illustrious Calumet Farm stablemate, Gen. Duke, arrive from Louisville today to begin preparing for the $100,000 Preakness, the second jewel in the Triple Crown classics which will be run at Pimlico, May 18.

Trainer Jimmy Jones will be on hand to handle the unloading and speculation whether Gen. Duke will start in the mile and three-sixteenths Preakness. The "Duke" was scratched from the Derby last Saturday because of a bruised foot, but Iron Liege carried the stable's colors to a surprise win in the 83rd running of the famed three-year-old event.

Jockey Willie Hartack, who rode Iron Liege to the biggest win of his career, will get the mount on Gen. Duke in the Preakness if the colt is well enough to start.

Frank Prieto pitched and batted the Mexican Colony to a 13 to 0 win over the Telephone Company in the second game of the current Desert Softball League campaign Tuesday night at the Polo Grounds.

He held the Phoners to 5 hits and himself hit safely three times in four trips to the plate.

His big blow was a grand slam homer in the fifth inning.

It was the Telephone Company's first appearance in Desert Softball league play.

Tonight at 8 p. m. at the Polo Grounds, M & M Groceries meets Desert Hot Springs in the third game of the season.

Two Teams Tie in O'Donnell Play

Entries Come in Rapidly for Racquet Cup

Entries are coming in rapidly for the eighth annual Racquet Cup Invitational Tennis tournament at the Racquet Club this weekend with play scheduled in men's and mixed doubles in two flights.

Two teams tied with 57s in the weekly Twosome Choose-Up at O'Donnell Golf Club Tuesday with J. E. French, club president on one of them.

The two winning combinations were J. E. French and Paul Hodnick and Fred Dufey and Walter Funsinn.

Other best ball twosome scores were:

58—Maurice Smith, Lee Owens. 59—C. H. Baldwin, William Rehle; R. V. Fleet, Frank Gatto; Glenn Thomas, L. E. Owens.

Klu Remains Silent on Operation Plan

CINCINNATI 40—Big Ted Kluszewski had no comment today about when doctors would operate to correct a crippling back ailment that may keep him out of the Cincinnati lineup for the rest of the season.

The 237-pound slugger checked out of the hospital Tuesday, where he underwent a final series of tests to determine the cause and extent of his ailment.

Willie Mays Goes to Hospital for Check

NEW YORK 40—The New York Giants, beset by injuries since the start of spring training, today were confronted with two more casualties.

Center fielder Willie Mays, bothered by a persistent virus attack, was taken to a hospital Tuesday for a complete check-up, while right fielder Don Mueller was sidelined with a groin injury.

THE SHOE'S BOO-BOO IN DERBY NOT THE FIRST BUT MAY BE THE WORST

By HAL WOOD

United Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—When Wee Willie Shoemaker pulled up Gallant Man at the wrong pole and thus lost the Kentucky Derby by a nose, it wasn't the first—or the last—boo-boo to be pulled in the world of horse racing.

However, it may have been the worst.

Shoemaker was involved in another incident like that only a year ago.

And Eddie Arcaro and Billy The Artist Pearson have been credited with the same sort of blunders.

IT WAS IN THE $100,000 California race last year at Hollywood Park that Shoemaker, aboard the great Swaps, thought he had the race won. He was so far in front of the pack with 100 yards to go that he stood up in his irons. And while coasting home he didn't notice Porterhouse was sneaking up—and won by a nose. The boos that Willie heard that time were enough to drive a guy out of the game.

At Churchill Downs Saturday, Shoemaker admitted that he mistook the 16th pole for the finish

Clinic Building Dedication Set For June 1, 2

June 1 and 2 have been set as the dates for the open house dedication of the new clinic building of the Angel View Crippled Children's Hospital at Desert Hot Springs.

A. O. Calvin, president of the AVCC, has chosen Board Member Lola Hemingway to head the committee in charge, and board members Sarah Weiss and Pat Ryan to serve with her.

Galvin also announced the election of Mrs. Merle Larsen to the presidency of the AVCC Auxiliary and Mrs. Esther Morrison as public relations director for the AVCC.

VFW to Meet Thursday Night

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post in Desert Hot Springs will hold its next regular meeting Thursday night at the B-Bar-B Ranch, with Tom Lane, new commander, presiding for the first time.

Other recently installed officers are H. V. Learned, senior vice president; J. J. Sanboone, junior vice commander; John Kirby, chaplain; E. W. Gudath, quartermaster; Don Little, adjutant; O. J. Spang, sergeant-at-arms, and Frank Danheil, judge advocate.

During the past three years, 64 per cent of North Dakota's corn acreage has been used for silage or fodder.

Funny, Interesting Dog Books Available for Young Readers

By GERRY VANEK

The mystery in THE COCKER SPANIEL MYSTERY is only part of the fun in this book by Hazel Langdale. We also learn what it's like to live in a trailer; Polly's family just picks up and moves about the country at a moment's notice. Maybe Father wants some local color for a new story he's writing, or perhaps Mother (who's an artist like Charles Greer, who illustrated this book) wants to make some sketches for a new painting.

This time they travel to New England. Those of you who come from the East will enjoy revisiting familiar spots, and the rest of you (who may have never been across the Rockies) should have fun seeing how the other half of the country lives! Looking at the section on New England in Holiday magazine's new book, THE U.S.A. IN COLOR, will show you what a beautiful part of the country it is.

FLOPSY SLEPT with his master, followed him up and down the stairs, and, when Bobby was playing with his toy train, Flopsy stood over the track just like a tunnel! The day they played in the mud and got all wet and dirty, "Doctor" Bobby gave Flopsy a special examination and treatment so that he wouldn't catch a cold.

One morning Bobby was very surprised to find an honest-to-goodness dog house in the yard, and to see the man from the store deliver dog biscuits that weren't imaginary. And we're surprised on the very last page of the book, because there aren't any more drawings of Flopsy—there's just one, big, happy photograph!

KATHRYN AND Byron Jackson (with the artistic aid of Tibor Gergely) tell us all about LITTLE YIP YIP AND HIS BARK. Nowhere was a puppy that had a bark now bigger than he was (and that was pretty tiny!) This might have been all right, except that he was supposed to be the watchdog on the farm!

All of the barnyard animals laughed when he tried to sound fierce; they said he sounded like "a squeaky shoe, or baby mice, or a little robin calling its Mother." One day a big, black dog came and drank Yip Yip's milk out of his bowl, and ate the biscuit in his dish! Poor Yip Yip couldn't even protect his own property, much less a whole farm.

BUT THE DAY the fox came to steal some chickens, Yip Yip crawled into a pal and his "Yip-Yip" suddenly echoed into a big "BOW! WOW!" And the day the rabbits came to dine in the cabbage patch, he barked in a barrel, and the bunnies ran as if four big dogs were after them. After that, Yip Yip practiced his barking in a rusty milk can, a big round pipe, and in an old oil drum.

The third rider was the oldest sister, Grace, now married and living in Kirkland, Wash.

Jeannette graduated to her "first real horse" in 1945 when she found a Shetland pony under the Christmas tree.

"HE RAN AWAY with me four times that first day," Jeannette said. "It took me two years to let go of the saddle horn."

The girls' interest in horses really accelerated then. Fascinated by horse show, they had already entered a few "gilt plugs" in various shows with regrettable, but expected results.

The horse soon improved, and so did the girls. Jeannette won her first blue ribbon at Vallejo in September, 1949. Since then, she has captured 36 trophies, three engraved belt buckles and one silver platter.

hints on obedience school training, requirements for winning points in a dog show, and even emergency treatments for canine injuries.

PEDIGREED PUPS usually have long, formal names. They're impressive, but can you imagine having to say, "Come, Mistwood Lassie Velvety Tokalon," every time you wanted your dog? Just plain "Come, Velvety" would get him there faster! Polly called Mystery Girl of Mountain Glen "Misty," and Judy Ann's Princess Morning Star of Glenburnie became simply "Star" for short.

Though these dogs kept disappearing, they were real dogs. But the little hero in Charlotte St. E. W. Gudath's MAKE BELIEVE PUPPY was real only to Bobby who made him up. Helen Heller's photographs of Bobby have drawings of Flopsy right in them; after all, it's very hard to take a picture of the little dog who isn't there!

THE SCENERY may be different, but the children from all parts of America are the same.

One of the first things Polly and her friend, Judy Ann plan is to organize a club. They invite Carol, Marcia, and Candy—as well as Bill and Jerry—to join them.

Of course, the idea of refreshments after the meetings is second only to the main purpose of the club, as far as the boys are concerned!

In addition to highlights and sidelights on trailer life, scenic New England . . . and club rules and committees, you'll find some helpful tips on the care and training of dogs. You will learn when, where, and why a new puppy's tail should be clipped, and to the store for the first time.

WE'RE GOING to try it out for one year," Mrs. Gibson recounted. "Everybody liked it so much, we've never said anything about leaving."

The first Gibson ranch was mostly prune orchard. It was a bit confusing for a city family that "didn't know prunes from plums" or that they grew on trees.

Blue Jeans and Spurs or Party Dress, Jeanette Gibson Is Rodeo Queen

By AL LE ANCE

A white party dress doesn't look much like blue jeans and spurs, but it wasn't hard to recognize this young lady as the hard-riding girl who sped off with the Miss Palm Springs Rodeo trophy.

A slender, smiling brunet, 20-year-old Jeannette Gibson easily qualifies as queen for anybody's rodeo, whether she's climbing aboard the weather deck of a fast-stepping mare or modeling a new frock at her Palm Desert home.

As spirited as a blue-grass filly, Jeannette rides a horse better than many men wish they could (just count her trophies) and she knows enough about horseflesh to be judging shows herself.

WHICH IS WHY the Palm Springs Mounted Police judges singled her out as the girl to represent the Village area in Miss California Rodeo competition at Pomona next month.

"I was so excited I didn't know whether to laugh or cry when they gave me the trophy," she confided. "I guess I did a little of both."

So did her mother and sister, Peggy, who confessed they mingle tears and laughter every time Jeannette snags a trophy. That makes for a heavy Kleenex bill since she has upwards of 30 trophies.

"I usually say that I went from city girl to prune picker to cowgirl," she laughed.

Jeannette hardly knew a horse from a barn swallow when she accompanied her family to the Napa Valley, fresh from the regaled society of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The family movement was instigated by her father, John Gibson, owner of the Gibson Wine Company. Gibson decided that since his wineries were in California, he ought to be living here too.

"WE'RE GOING to try it out for one year," Mrs. Gibson recounted. "Everybody liked it so much, we've never said anything about leaving."

The first Gibson ranch was mostly prune orchard. It was a bit confusing for a city family that "didn't know prunes from plums" or that they grew on trees.

Track Traffic Control to Be Ready by May 20

A resolution providing for continuing supervision over traffic and road conditions in the area surrounding the quarterhorse race track at Rancho Mirage, for which the board of supervisors granted a permit last week, is to be prepared and presented to the supervisors May 20.

County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr., Road Commissioner A. C. Keith, and Planning Director Tyler Suess were instructed by the board this week to work together in setting up the traffic control measure.

SULLIVAN SAID some standards should be "spelled out in advance." Said he: "I believe the applicants and property owners of the area are entitled to a set of standards, a certain finality, but room should be left for additional conditions as the need develops."

Sullivan disagreed with Suess as to the time when the traffic control rules should be adopted. "I think we should await the time when the permit applicants are ready to apply for a building permit," said Suess. "The race track plan was drafted some time ago. It may be changed. Then too, there is always the possibility that they may not build at all."

"I DISAGREE," said Sullivan. "The applicants may want to know what conditions they must comply with before they go ahead and apply for a building permit."

Supervisor George Berkey said he would like to see the board in a position to impose traffic regulations as the need arises. "I don't believe they'll know what is needed until they have a meet," he said. "I have heard the comment that the track will be a big flop. If it's a big flop there probably will be only one meet."

John Babbage, attorney for a group of property owners near the race track site, indicated that there will be a sizable delegation at the May 20 meeting of the board. "These people are entitled to protection," said Babbage, "and should have an opportunity to let their desires be known." He observed that many changes have occurred in the area since the permit was applied for in 1955.

Perkins Murder Case Not Closed, Sheriff Reports

"Each and every lead which has come to the attention of this office relative to the murder in Palm Springs of Mrs. Inez Perkins has been completely and thoroughly investigated," Sheriff Joe W. Rice assured the county board of supervisors this week.

Laurence Perkins, now of Pomona, widower of the murdered woman, asked the supervisors April 15 to take more positive action toward finding the murderer. He charged that the sheriff's office is "dragging their feet." It was at his instigation that the sheriff was asked to make a report to the board. Perkins himself was charged with the murder immediately after it took place in a trailer court at the desert resort May 31, 1956, but was later freed as "innocent."

"Any additional leads," the sheriff told the supervisors, "that are brought to our attention or which come to our attention in the course of the performance of the duties of the officers of the sheriff's office will be thoroughly investigated. This case is not closed."

The report was filed without comment.

Citrus Pest Pamphlet Ready

The new recommendations for the control of citrus pests are now available in a pamphlet called "1957 Spray Program for California Citrus Fruits."

Copies are available at the Agricultural Extension Service, Room 7, Post Office Building, Riverside. Growers in the Coachella Valley may obtain copies at the Agricultural Extension Service, 46-269 Oasis Street, County Administration Building, Indio.

County Passes West Indio Area Zoning Ordinance

An amending ordinance affecting interim zoning of the West Indio area was adopted by the board of supervisors this week to become effective in 30 days, June 5.

It changes a restricted commercial zone to a single family zone in "all the area lying adjacent to the centerline of Avenue 45 between the east and west lines of Section 22, Township 5 South, Range 7 East."

The supervisors previously set a hearing on the proposed change for May 27, 10 a.m. Should the decision at the close of the hearing be adverse to the interim zoning change, the ordinance will have to be abolished.
